

The DVWA uses PHPSESSID to authenticate users.

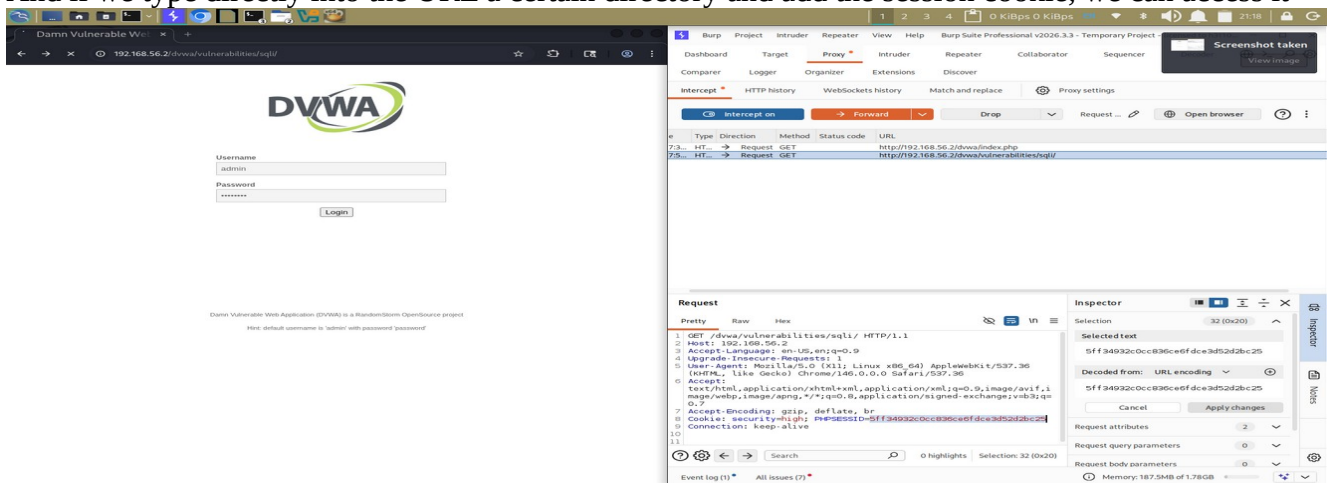

So if we were to try to access a certain directory within DVWA with the unauthenticated cookie, we would be redirect to the login page to authenticate.

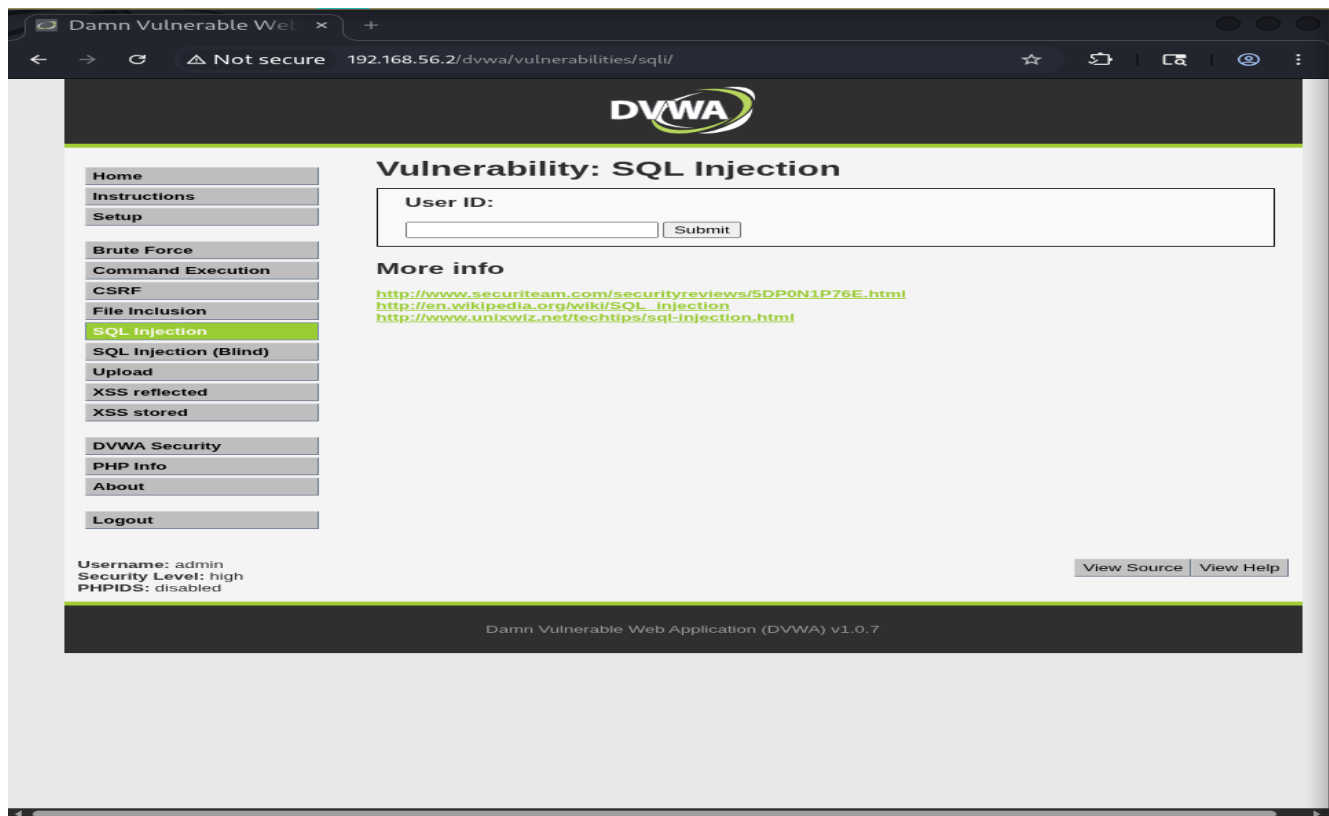

After logging-in with the default credentials, we now have an authenticated session cookie, which is: 5ff34932c0cc836ce6fdce3d52d2bc25

And if we type directly into the URL a certain directory and add the session cookie, we can access it the page loads after adding the authenticated session cookie.